There are so many pictures of our festivals...
We will continue up to the present next week.

1993 Can you guess who the young man in a previous picture is? The young man on the left is our Festival Chair George Georgiou and on the right is Matthew Anastasiou who today is Fr. Sotiri. The volunteers of our festival were often at church with their parents. Mr. George Bitsakis wanted to be a part of our festival so that they could give back to the community. When the city of New York began its program to recycle bottles and cans, the young men (their fathers were co-chairs of all the construction projects for over 30 years) started collecting the cans, redeem them and then turn them over to the Church. The young man on the left is our Festival Chair George Georgiou and on the right is Matthew Anastasiou who today is Fr. Sotiri monk who serves a parish in Florida. Sotiri has been chairing the Festival for many years.
